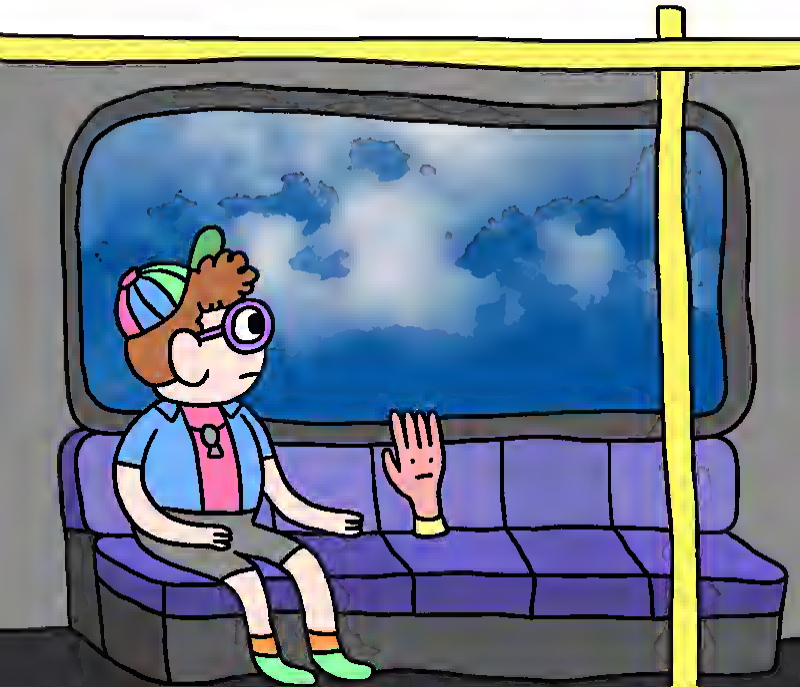
hello
hell

The sky viewed from the train does not reflect my feelings



It is bright & Lovely...
My destination is Brent Cross, an industrial park north of London.

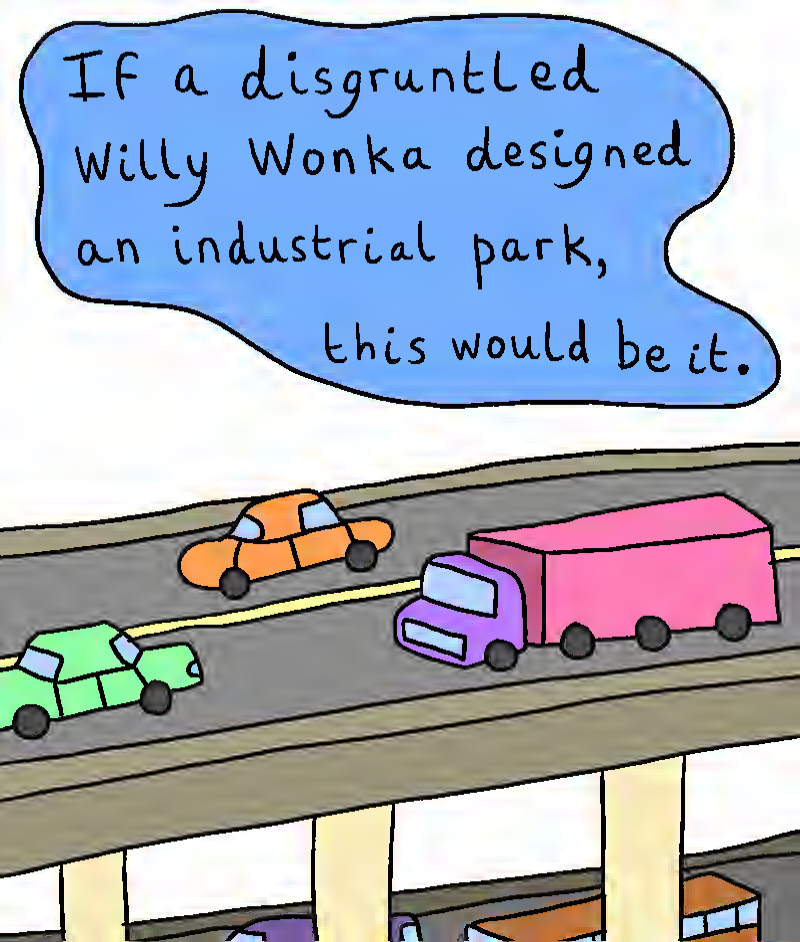
Londoners call it:
"Hell on Earth"



If a disgruntled Willy Wonka designed an industrial park, this would be it.

a maze of walkways
pillars, tunnels, patches of grass
the cars

have a
bad time
pedestrians
have a bad
time

and pavements end suddenly

or simply become unwalkable

Like this

this would be a perfect day for complaining

if it wasn't for all this beautiful sunlight
